The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the rich and cosmopolitan history of Armenia and the Armenian people from the earliest times to roughly the eleventh century of the Common Era. The course will provide a sweeping survey of Armenian history both from the perspective of local Armenian actors as well as from that of many of Armenia’s imperial neighbors and civilizations. Our approach will be to examine how Armenia and Armenians creatively interacted with other states and civilizations in the larger Eurasian world and how these encounters, interactions, and local adaptations shaped the future trajectories of Armenian history. We will frame our study both chronologically and, whenever possible, thematically. We will begin by addressing the complex history of Armenian “ethnogenesis” and move on to discussing the establishment of various dynasties ruling over the historical territory of Armenia from the Orontids (Yervanduni), Artaxiads (Artashesians) to the Arsacids (Arshakunis). Much of our survey will be devoted to the partition of Armenia between Iranian and Byzantine/Roman spheres of influence and its subsequent absorption into the Arab Caliphate. The survey will conclude with the resurrection and collapse of the last Armenian kingdom under the Bagratid (Bagratuni) dynasty. In addition to the two textbooks assigned for the course, there will be a number of essay-length readings made available to students in pdf format, as well as excerpted selections of primary sources in English translations. Pdf readings are marked by an asterisk on the syllabus and are available for downloading.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE SYLLABUS

Enrollment in this course implies acceptance of all rules, policies and requirements of this class. The syllabus serves as your contract for the course. I reserve the right to make small changes to this syllabus in accordance with the specifics of the class dynamic.

NOTES, CAUTIONARY AND OTHERWISE:

- I encourage you to come to my office hours, to discuss any questions about the issues raised, or to talk about assignments and/or problems you might be having (or just to give us an opportunity to get to know each other better), so that we can work together in providing sufficient explanations to questions and resolutions to problems. For most of you, this course covers unfamiliar regions and periods and will involve learning new concepts; please do not wait until the end of the quarter to see me.

- Students are expected to express themselves openly and participate in creating a non-intimidating classroom environment that contributes to open discussion. They are expected to think objectively and historically and to listen respectfully to others’ remarks.
In this course, as in others, each student is in charge of and responsible for his/her own education. In other words, what one gets out of this course depends on what one puts into it. This includes grades. Grades are not negotiable. All grades are earned; if you want an A and not an A-, then earn it. If you have an issue with a grade on an assignment and can explain in writing why your assignment deserves a different grade, I am willing to take a second look. Please be forewarned, however, that I will look at the assignment with a fresh eye; that means grades may be raised, lowered, or remain the same.

This is an upper-division course. The written work you submit should be of the highest quality. All essays should be free of grammar, spelling, typographical, and form errors. All written work should be typed, double-spaced, with 12-point font size. Fonts such as Times and Times Roman are acceptable. Be sure to have 1” margins. Paginate your essays (page numbers) and staple pages together. Your essays should have a title, an introduction, a thesis, supporting paragraphs, and a conclusion.

All assigned readings for the day must be completed before you come to class. You should be prepared to discuss the readings and participate in all the class discussions.

All assignments are due at the beginning of class on the day assigned. I will not accept an assignment if the student has not attended class that day. Exceptions may be made in rare cases. If I permit the late submission of an assignment, I will deduct points 5 points per day.

Electronic submission and late assignments will not be accepted without prior agreement.

Students are required to be present at every class session and to be prepared for class. Unexcused absences will be penalized. Students must contact the instructor if a conflict arises that will prevent them from attending class. Only students who have excused absences and approval from the instructor will be able to make up a missed assignment. I am not obligated to consider other absences except the following excused absences: illness or injury to the student; death, injury, or serious illness of an immediate family member or the like; religious reasons (California Education Code section 89320); jury duty or government obligation; university sanctioned or approved activities (examples include: artistic performances, forensics presentations, participation in research conferences, intercollegiate athletic activities, student government, required class field trips.) Please contact me immediately if a situation arises that forces your absence from class. If I do not hear from you, I will consider your absence unexcused.

Consistent tardiness will not be acceptable and will result in a grade deduction. You need to let me know ahead of time if you are going to be late. If you are late to class beyond twenty minutes of class time, I will consider you absent for the day.

Some class sessions will be discussion focused. Please bring appropriate readings and texts to class with you. Give yourself sufficient time to complete the reading and prepare before coming to class. Moreover, give yourself sufficient time to understand assignment guidelines, complete writing assignments accordingly, and seek help early if you are having difficulties.

Classroom etiquette: please abide by the etiquette guidelines established on the first day of class.
• NO reading of extraneous material in class;
• NO radios, headsets, iPods, or any other distractions;
• NO conversations other than those directed at the class;
• NO cell phones, no texting. If you must have one for any reason, see me before class.
• NO packing up before class is dismissed

Academic Integrity and Honesty:
Cheating and plagiarism are serious offenses and will not be tolerated. They are violations of university regulations. All students will be held to a high standard of academic integrity, which is defined as "the pursuit of scholarly activity free from fraud and deception." Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarizing, fabricating of information or citations, facilitating acts of academic dishonesty by others, having unauthorized possession of examinations, submitting work of another person or work previously used without informing the instructor, or tampering with the academic work of other students. All acts of academic dishonesty will be subject to disciplinary action. All take-home written assignments for the course must be submitted electronically through Turnitin. in order to ensure the authenticity of the presented written work. A single act of cheating or plagiarism by an undergraduate student will result in a failing grade on that assignment. A single act of cheating or plagiarism by a graduate student will result in a failing grade in the course, regardless of other graded course assignments.
